SE 9 CELEBRATING AMERICAN WOMEN 100th Anniversary of the 19th Amendment

Tuesday, August 18

10 AM-12 Noon

Ratified on August 18, 1920, the 19th amendment guarantees all American women the right to vote. Achieving this milestone required a lengthy and difficult struggle; victory took decades of agitation and protest. Few early supporters lived to see final victory in 1920. The right to vote has been hard fought. This year we celebrate America's 100th anniversary giving women that right.

Presenter: Karen Linkletter, PhD, American Studies History Lecturer

OLLI Remote Learning Center Class Etiquette Guidelines

When taking a live streamed class via the OLLI Remote Learning Center, ORLC, you are in a virtual classroom and should conduct yourself as you would in a real classroom. Based on feedback from the last few months of remote learning we have come up with some guidelines to enhance the online experience.

You are on a live camera

- Focus on the screen or camera, not on your phone or other device
- Do not eat, drink, or wander around
- Consider what others will see behind you and keep interruptions to a minimum
- Consider using a virtual background, or turning off your video

You are on a live microphone

- Mute yourself when listening
- Avoid side conversations
- Eliminate background noise to the extent possible, including phones, TV/radio, pets
- Raise your hand either physically or using the raised hand icon on the bottom bar

Additional tip

- Login at least five minutes before class starts to allow for any last-minute adjustments

How does the ORLC work?

During a live streaming class there is a staff person from UCI running the technical part of the meeting. There is also an OLLI member who is acting as the moderator for the class. The moderator will lead any discussions or question and answer sessions.

If you are visiting the Remote Learning Center to watch a pre-recorded class lecture, it is all handled with technology and there are no live people involved. You are the lone user and no one else can see or hear you.

Watch for links to additional Remote Learning Center and Zoom training.
