This holiday season, the UCI Police Department will be accepting donations of new, unwrapped toys and teddy bears suitable for infants and children up to age 14. We will also need volunteers to help bring the toys to the UCI Police Department on Friday, December 16th. Please email olli@uci.edu if you'd like to help drop off donated gifts.

CONTEMPORARY INTERNATIONAL SHORT STORIES

Monday, December 12

Discussion Leader:

works by acclaimed short story writers from around the world. Class volunteers select a story from the text or PDF from the internet, develop questions and lead the discussion.

The textbook is One World; a Global Anthology of Short Stories published in May 2009, and available in paper and Kindle, at Amazon.com. "All belong to one world, united in their diversity and ethnicity. And together they have one aim: to involve and move the reader."

We all want to communicate clearly and effectively in writing and in speech, but we can't rely on Microsoft Word to be our copy editor. This course addresses the common grammatical and usage errors that often lead to comical, embarrassing and sometimes disastrous results.

The two sessions will include punctuation, run-on sentences, tautological phrases, pronouns, subject-verb agreement, dangling participles and misplaced modifiers, and prepositions. Audio-visual aids, wordplay and humor ensure that snoozing is not an option. By popular demand, this is the beginning of a repeat of this 3-term, 7-session course, but new material has been added.

EVOCATIVE MUSIC (Session 2 of 3)

Wednesday, December 14
10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

Presenter:
Steve Weinstein, B.A. English with a minor in music,

Music can provoke strong emotions, but sometimes music is designed to make you see, hear or feel something physical: the weather (such as wind, thunder or lightning); aspects of nature (such as a mountain, a river, the sea, sunrise or moonlight); animals (such as a bumblebee, birds, snakes, cats, dogs or mules); or travel, including modes of transportation (such as boats, trains or automobiles) and destinations (such as Spain, the Austrian Alps, or the Grand Canyon). This course will show you how composers use music to create sensory experiences.

Wednesday, December 14

Evocative classical music about:

- Aspects of Nature (cont.)—The Sea, Sunrise, Moonlight
- Animals—Insects, Birds, Snakes

Almost 400 years from publication of Shakespeare's First Folio in 1623, Shakespeare's plays remain a staple in education curriculum and theatre productions. This interactive group will read aloud two plays of our choosing, discussing the characters, plot and major themes.

Woven within this interactive reading will be a discussion of the political and social environment of the period. Class will use Folger Library editions of the plays, available in paperback and online.

NOTE: Change in class time for this session.
