SUPREME COURT CASE REVIEW: 2022-2023 TERM

SS 314

Thursdays

May 25, June 1, 8

1:30 PM – 3:30 PM

Last term the Court decided many socially and politically important decisions. The 2022-2023 term is shaping up to be as decisive across the political spectrum. Already the Court has calendared for decision cases concerning state redistricting, the use of race in college admissions, the alleged conflict between public accommodation laws, and religious freedom under the First Amendment and voting rights. This class will review the arguments, court comments, and decisions, if available, apolitically. Includes Q&A.

Presenter: Mitch Samuelson, J.D. is a highly respected attorney with over 50 years' experience litigating complex business, commercial, real estate, and construction defect matters. He serves as a mediator for the Los Angeles and Orange County Superior Courts.

EUROPEAN HISTORY SERIES: The Medieval Age (Session 4 of 4)

Tuesday, June 6
10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

Presenter:
Rainer Feldt, a favorite OLLI presenter of multiple historical time periods, taught European History at Saddleback College for 16 years

The European History Series has traced the development of Western civilization from early 3500 BCE to the present.

This course will explore the period known as the Middle Ages—the era between the fall of Rome (476 AD) to the rise of Renaissance Italy in 1400 AD. The medieval period is the link between the ancient and the modern world.

June 6: The decline of feudalism, the fall of Constantinople, the Renaissance
